

For Your Information

April 2008

Caring for Your Parents

Caring for Your Parents, and intimate look at five American families engaged in the struggles of tending to aging relatives, will air nationwide on PBS April 2. After the program, former NBC medical correspondent Art Ulene will lead a panel discussion on how to talk to parents about their future care.

The program is the first collaboration between AARP and WGBH, the PBS station in Boston. It complements the just-updated AARP book Caring for Your Parents: The Complete Family Guide, by Hugh Delehanty and Elinor Ginzler, with a foreword by psychologist Mary Pipher, author of Another Country.

To learn more, go to www.aarp.org/caregiving and www.wgbh.org. Check your local listing for air times.

*Share the Care Network Non-Medical In-home Health Solutions.
www.ShareTheCareNetwork.com
Helping the elderly gain greater "independence" in their home.*